Greetings everyone!

My apologies for not sending this out sooner, but as we know, Hurricane Sandy interfered with a few things this week!

The 15th Annual Resident Assistant Conference will be held at Stony Brook University on Saturday, November 10th. The theme for this year is “From Here to There”, which encourages RAs to not only build new skills while being an RA, but to also consider how being an RA will impact their future goals. This conference is expected to draw over 450 student leaders and professionals representing more than 15 colleges and universities from the New York Metro area.

Each year a Silent Auction is held during the conference to encourage a sense of civic responsibility within our student leaders. This year, proceeds from the silent auction will benefit The RA Scholarship fund, an initiative created to help recognize our Resident Assistants’ scholastic achievements and leadership skills. More information will be sent out on the scholarship in the near future.

Last year the Silent Auction raised over $250, which was fantastic! This year we are hoping to raise even more! The RA Conference Planning Committee would like to offer you the opportunity to help promote our efforts by donating various Stony Brook items and apparel to the auction. This can include items you currently have or other items you wish to donate or make for the auction. With your help, the Committee is confident we will be able to surpass last year’s total.

If you are interested in donating, please feel free to contact me at 632-6765 or email me at james.hicks@stonybrook.edu to coordinate the donation of your selected items, or you can send donations directly to:
