On behalf of the Division of Campus Residences, allow me to welcome you to Stony Brook University! We are excited that you have decided to become a member of our residence halls and the SBU community. Research has shown that students living on campus are more likely to graduate and pursue graduate study. By living with your fellow students, you develop an academic and social network that reaches beyond the classroom. Our residence halls are much more than just a place to sleep. Living in a residence hall gives you the opportunity to make friends, become involved in your community, learn about different cultures, and explore new ideas. Your next door neighbor could be someone from your hometown or halfway around the world! There are so many connections to be made, with opportunity around every corner! From Hall Council to participating in traditions such as the Quad’s Homecoming float, there’s always something to do.

Living in our residence halls is where students build treasured memories and lasting friendships. Students can develop connections through their Undergraduate Colleges (UGC) which we are extremely proud of. Your UGC is vital to extending your learning beyond the classroom and into your residence hall. These 6 themed residential quads provide you with the opportunity to meet people with similar interests, develop relationships with faculty and staff, and participate in a variety of activities connected around a central theme. You are beginning an exciting chapter of your life. We’re glad you’ve made the choice to start it with us!

Stony Brook University
The Undergraduate Experience

Stony Brook’s Undergraduate Colleges are small but vital communities, offering individualized support while tailoring the first-year experience for students with similar interests. Each incoming freshman is assigned to one of six.

Undergraduate Colleges:
1. Arts, Culture, and Humanities in Tabler Quad.
2. Global Studies in Eleanor Roosevelt Quad.
3. Human Development in Kelly Quad.
4. Information & Technology Studies in Mendelsohn Quad.
5. Leadership and Service in H Quad.

The Undergraduate Colleges are designed to let students explore a wide range of interests, both within their intended majors and across the academic spectrum. All Undergraduate Colleges include customized advising and support, special educational and social programs, and opportunities for close interaction with faculty and fellow students around themes of common interest. Both commuter and residential students are welcomed into College life. First-year resident members of each College are housed together in the same residential quadrangle. First-year commuters have a centrally located home in the Student Activities Center (SAC).

Get Connected:
Step 1: Turn on Wi-Fi on your PC
Step 2: Connect to WolfieNet-Secure. A Dialogue Box may appear in several seconds prompting that ‘Additional logon information is required.’
Step 3: Enter your NetID & Password (what you use to access your Google SBemail)
Step 4: Start Browsing!

Cable Television
All rooms & apartments on campus have cable service, including HBO & HBO Go.

Laundry Rooms
All residential facilities provide Wolfie Wallet-operated washers and dryers. To add funds to your Wolfie Wallet please visit: stonybrook.edu/wolfiewallet

Computing Centers and Print Stations
The Division of Campus Residences offers a number of conveniences through the Residential Computing Centers, including staff, location, and scheduling. Each center is maintained by a staff of resident students. These students have extensive knowledge of all the hardware and software applications available for residents, and are happy to share this knowledge.

Bike Racks and Shelters
Since last summer we’ve installed 31 bike rack shelters with 4 more to come during the spring semester.” The University has expanded locations all throughout the campus. Find out where (here).

Keepin it Cozy
Here are some tips to keep warm on these cold winter nights:
1. Make sure your radiator isn’t blocked by any furniture so that the heat can circulate.
2. Keep the heat in! Close all windows and keep your room door shut.
3. Stay hydrated with hot drinks from starbucks or our very own corner cafe.
4. Finally cozy up with your favorite university apparel or a nice warm blanket.

PS: Remember space heaters are NOT permitted in the residence halls

We're very proud of our outstanding safety record here at Stony Brook. But safety is no accident. It takes the dedication of many hard-working professionals across the campus and the vigilance and awareness of all students, faculty, and staff. Stony Brook is one of the area's safest campuses.

Living on campus is like living in a city comprised of about 25,000 residential and commuter students, employed faculty and staff as well as community members who utilize the services provided by the University everyday. As in any community, it is important for all of us to remember that safety and security is everyone's responsibility.

There are things you can do to stay safe on campus:
• Don't prop exterior doors, which can provide access to unwanted individuals.
• Keep your bedroom, suite or apartment door locked at all times even while you're home or when you leave your room for a short time.
• Lock ground floor windows.
• Residence halls are locked 24 hours a day.
• “Blue Light Phones” across campus allow students to call for help from anywhere.

Personal Property
The University is not liable for any damages related to personal items that may be caused by; water damage, electronic-based crime, identity crime, theft, flood, fire, smoke, electrical damage

Residential Safety Program &Walk Service
Volunteers with the Residential Safety Program (RSP) are available to escort students to parking lots or anywhere on the SBU Campus. You can request an escort by calling 2-WALK (9255) from any campus phone, or (631) 632-WALK from a non-campus phone. RSP phone lines are active 24/7.

SERIOUS ABOUT SAFETY

SAFETY NOTICE

Environmental Health & Safety
January 15, 2018

Hoverboard Restriction

To: All Students, Faculty & Staff

In light of recent reports of fires and the potential for other serious injuries, hoverboards, including self-balancing scooters, battery-powered scooters and hands-free segways, are prohibited in all University buildings, including residence halls. As such, hoverboards may not be charged, used or stored in any building. Hoverboards have been linked to fires in at least 17 states. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission is investigating the cause of fires and risks. Additionally, the National Fire Protection Association and the NYS Office of Fire Prevention have issued safety alerts and warnings.

Stony Brook joins universities across the country in implementing this ban. We will continue to monitor the investigation, regulations and changes in industry standards regarding hoverboards. This action will remain in effect until such time that the University receives a clearer understanding of the problems, risks and solutions. To effectively safeguard members of our campus community all students, faculty, staff, vendors, volunteers, and visitors are expected to comply with this action. University leaders, supervisors, and building managers are expected to inform and encourage compliance in their area(s) of responsibility. Individuals found in possession of hoverboards in University buildings will be asked to remove them.

Inquiries: For information related to this policy, one of the following offices may be contacted:

Hoverboard Safety

National Fire Protection Association issues fire safety tips
• Choose a charger with the seal of an independent testing laboratory.
• Read and know all manufacturer instructions. If you do not understand the directions, ask for help.
• An adult should be responsive while charging the hoverboard.
• Do not leave a charging hoverboard unattended.
• Never leave the hoverboard plugged in overnight.
• Only use the charging cord that came with the hoverboard.
• Never use your hoverboard if it overheats.
• Extreme hot or cold temperature can hurt the battery. Be on the lookout for product updates from manufacturers and safety groups.
• Many airlines have banned hoverboards. If you plan to fly with a hoverboard, be sure to check with your air carrier.
• When riding a hoverboard, keep the hoverboard where you can see it in case it shows signs of a problem.
